What is Generalist Youth Support?

What is Generalist Youth Support?

Generalist Youth Support is a free service for young people aged 12 – 18 to provide information and referrals when:

- You may be feeling a bit unhappy or worried
- You want information about things like drugs and alcohol, health, Centrelink or legal issues etc.
- You want help to develop your personal skills
- You want to increase your personal supports
- You are having problems at home
- You want someone to help you talk things over
- You're thinking of leaving school or going back to school
- Things aren't so great with your family or friends or school
- You want to talk to someone about sex or sexuality
- You are having problems finding somewhere to live

What happens when I see a Generalist Youth Support Caseworker?

Yarra Youth Services has a caseworker that is here to help you. The Yarra Youth Services caseworker is Stephen Pronesti.

Feel free to approach us for a variety of reasons, problems or requests. We will do our best to find the right information, supports and assistance to help you achieve what you want to.

Will everything I say be kept secret?

What you say to a caseworker is private. No one outside the Individual support worker team and appropriate management will have access to this information without your consent. However, if the caseworker is worried about something you have said and they are concerned that you or someone else may be at risk of being hurt, they have a responsibility to tell someone to make sure that everyone is as safe as possible.

A caseworker can help work with you to find the right way to deal with things that come up and refer you to the right people to help you.

If you currently live, work or study in the City of Yarra and would like some further assistance, please speak to your Youth Worker to refer you to us for some confidential help.

For urgent quick information, you can use the following numbers. Otherwise, a worker can help find the right service for you.
