Recommendation Date: Monday 16 March 2020

Advertising Period: Friday 20 March – Monday 18 May 2020

This recommendation report has been issued by the Executive Director, Heritage Victoria under s.37 of the Heritage Act 2017.

Current Name: Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand

VHR number: VHR H0751

Hermes number: 447

REASONS FOR REGISTRATION IN JUNE 1990

The State-level historical and architectural cultural heritage significance of the Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand was recognised in June 1990 by its inclusion in the Register of Historic Buildings (VHR H0751). The registration recognised the place's historical significance as an early surviving grandstand with associations with the development of cricket and Australian Rules football in metropolitan Melbourne. It also recognised its architectural significance as a fine example of a nineteenth-century timber grandstand.

AMENDMENT APPLICATION MADE ON 11 MARCH 2020

On 11 March 2020 the Executive Director made and accepted an application to amend the registration of the Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand (VHR H0751) by including additional land and permit exemptions. The Executive Director is systematically reviewing early registrations and amending as required to ensure that they are consistent with current practices under the Heritage Act 2017. The Executive Director is also proposing to convert the existing statement of significance to the current format.

AMENDMENT RECOMMENDATION REASONS

The Executive Director recommends that the Heritage Council amend this registration in accordance with s.62 of the Heritage Act 2017 because under s.32(1) of the Act he considers that—

- a) the State-level cultural heritage significance of the place would be substantially less if the land or any part of the proposed land for inclusion in the Register was developed;
- b) the proposed land for inclusion in the Register is important to the protection or conservation of the place or contributes to the understanding of the place.

WHO ARE THE TRADITIONAL OWNERS/REGISTERED ABORIGINAL PARTY FOR THIS PLACE?

The Registered Aboriginal Party under the Aboriginal Heritage Act 2006 for the land on which the Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand is located is the Wurundjeri Woi Wurrung Cultural Heritage Aboriginal Corporation.

BACKGROUND

WHAT IS AT THE PLACE?

The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand (1888) is located on the north side of the WT Peterson Oval (commonly known as the Brunswick Street Oval) within the Edinburgh Gardens precinct. It comprises timber framed seating area atop a brick storey containing change rooms and other facilities. The southern elevation, facing the oval, features a central divided entry stair, additional stairs to each end of the building, cast iron balustrading to the seating area and small central gable with louvered vent. The western elevation has an attached verandah. A single-storey community meeting room (1980s) is located to the east of the grandstand. The north elevation is of painted brick and weatherboard and includes windows to both the upper and lower levels. The area surrounding the buildings consists of asphalted paths and roadways, areas of lawn and trees.

WHAT IS THE HISTORY OF THE PLACE?

The site for the Edinburgh Gardens was reserved in 1862. In the same year, cricket teams were given permission to occupy part of the reserve and began to introduce improvements to support the use of the place for sports. The Fitzroy Football Club was formed in 1883 and began playing at the ground. Cricket and Australian Rules football continued to grow in popularity in the late nineteenth century, and in 1888 the cricket club had the resources to commission the construction of the Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand. The grandstand was designed by Nathaniel Billing, then working as N. Billing and Son. In 1905 an additional grandstand, similar in design, was constructed to the west of the 1888 grandstand. In 1966, the Fitzroy Football Club vacated the ground. In the 1970s, the 1905 grandstand was destroyed by fire. After a period of neglect, the surviving 1888 grandstand was refurbished, and additional community facilities added. Further works were undertaken in the early 1990s and 2000s. In 2020 the grandstand was home to sports teams including the Edinburgh Cricket Club and Fitzroy Football Club.

INTRODUCTION TO PERMIT EXEMPTIONS

Preamble

The purpose of this information is to assist owners and other interested parties when considering or making decisions regarding works to a registered place. They may include appropriate works that are specified in a conservation management plan. Permit exemptions can be granted at the time of registration (under s.38 of the Heritage Act) or after registration (under s.92 of the Heritage Act). It should be noted that the addition of new buildings to the registered place, as well as alterations to the interior and exterior of existing buildings requires a permit, unless a specific permit exemption is granted.

Disrepair of registered place or registered object

Under s.152 of the Act, the owner of a registered place or registered object must not allow that place or object to fall into disrepair.

Failure to maintain registered place or registered object

EXISTING STATEMENT OF SIGNIFICANCE

What is significant?

The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand was constructed in 1888 to the design of the architects N Billing and Son. It is of typical nineteenth century form with central divided entry stair emphasised by a small pediment and restrained use of cast iron for balustrading. The ground, usually known as the 'Brunswick Street Oval', was the home of the Fitzroy Football Club until 1966.

How is it significant?

The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand is of architectural and historical significance to the State of Victoria.

Why is it Significant?

The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand is of architectural significance as a fine example of a 19th century timber grandstand at a major sports venue. It is of typical 19th century form with central divided entry stair emphasised by a small pediment and restrained use of cast iron for balustrading only. Grandstands were a spectacular feature of nineteenth century recreation but generally were demolished or severely altered. The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand therefore stands as one of the most important of a now small group of survivors.

The Fitzroy Cricket Ground Grandstand is of historical significance as possibly the oldest and most intact nineteenth century grandstand in the metropolitan area and for its enduring association over many years with inner metropolitan football and cricket, one of the few associated structures to have survived relatively intact. The Cricket Ground was the home of the now-defunct Fitzroy Football Club until 1966 and stands as an important reminder of the contribution made by Fitzroy to the history of Australian football in Victoria.
