Australia needs transformational change to rapidly reduce carbon emissions and draw down emissions from the atmosphere in order to restore a safe climate. To achieve this, Yarra is seeking a commitment from candidates and parties to act on a number of key priorities that respond to and support real and tangible action to address the climate emergency.

Creating a fair and prosperous economy

The City of Yarra is an economically diverse city, accommodating a range of mixed employment precincts, activity centres, industrial and health precincts. With over 16,600 businesses, Yarra is one of the largest economies in metropolitan Melbourne with its close proximity to the CBD, cultural and sporting centres and good road, rail and tram links. Yarra's economy is driven by four key areas: knowledge industries, creative industries, population-driven activities and the health, education and public sectors.

The pandemic, however, has challenged local economies and businesses across Australia. Throughout the pandemic, Yarra City Council has provided strong support to local businesses and as we move into the next phase of the pandemic, it is important that all levels of government work together to support the COVID-recovery. As this occurs, it is also important that our economy works for all residents, business and groups and that we create a fair, prosperous and resilient local economy for the future.

To achieve this, Yarra is seeking a commitment from candidates and parties to invest in the COVID-recovery, local economic development initiatives and ensure everyone has access to skills, training and employment.

- Establishing a Social Security Commission to advise the Parliament on the ongoing adequacy of income support payments
- Improving pathways to education and employment for young people, particularly through new and innovative collaborations between local government, business, education and training institutions and the community

Invest in local infrastructure

Investing in and upgrading local infrastructure is an important way in which Local, State and Federal governments can improve sustainability, liveability, opportunity and movement. In recent years, Yarra City Council has partnered with the Australian Government to deliver projects under its Local Roads and Community Infrastructure Program, Roads to Recovery and Black Spot Program. Yarra is seeking a commitment from candidates and parties to continue this work and increase the investment in local infrastructure that supports the needs and requirements of the Yarra community now and into the future.

Provide funding for the refurbishment and redevelopment of local sport and recreation facilities to support local jobs and active living across Yarra, including:
